Set-01. end.

This comic was put up Jan. 26, 2006. Today, is Jan. 4, 2007... This took me way too long to tone. ALMOST ONE YEAR!!!

This chapter disappoints me, especially since I've had it for so long. o_o; The art quality is pretty cheap, and the toning is inconsistent.

I barely told the story. The only thing I accomplished with this chapter is telling the setting and introducing the main characters.

The second chapter is slightly more planned out. Hopefully, it will be more successful than this one.

For sure, the art will be better but I can't promise anything with my story. My hope is to finish this story by next year, but we all know that that won't happen with my current pace in updates.

Beware cute romance/drama junk in the next chapter.

Remember that this is an experimental comic, and it's true purpose is to be my learning aid. XD;

Thanks to those who read the first chapter! I hope you'll keep reading and give me feedback~
